HONORS TO THE DEAD.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF THE HON. WILLIAM ELWELL.

The funeral services of the late Hon. William Elwell, were held last Friday morning at nine o'clock. The members of the bar of Columbia and Montour Counties assembled in the Court room, and proceeded to his late residence and escorted the remains to St. Paul's Episcopal Church where the services were conducted by the Rector, Rev. D. N. Kirkby. He paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Mr. Elwell and urged the audience to take his life as an example for their's, and so live that their last end might be as peaceful and honored as his had been.

He said the "Town Council expressed it all, when they said in their resolution of condolence that he was a good man, and a just judge."

All the places of business in the town, as well as many of the factories were closed, thus showing to some extent the high esteem in which he was held by the community. After the services at the church, the remains were taken to the D. L. & W. Rail Road station, and the party left in a special car for Towanda at 10.49, where the interment was held. The members of the bar re-conveyened in the Court room with Hon. E. R. Ikeler presiding. Upon motion J. G. Freeze, J. B. Robison and W. H. Rhawn, Esqs., were appointed a committee on resolutions. J. G. Freeze, Esq., who is President of the Bar Association made the following remarks:

MR. PRESIDENT:—It is my sad duty to announce to you the death of Honorable William Elwell, for a quarter of a century the President Judge of this Court. He passed from life about four o'clock on the morning of October 15, 1895, so peacefully that the exact time of his departure was not perceived by his family who were about his bed. He was born on the 9th day of October, 1808.

The death of William Elwell is an event which ought not to be passed over in silence. For more than fifty years he has been a conspicuous man in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and in the line of his profession the peer of any one of his contemporaries. He had been in active practice for almost thirty years before he came upon the Bench. during which time he had been a member of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, and chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

When he came to the Bar in 1833 there had been published but 34 volumes of the decisions of the Supreme Court, and now the official reporter is busy at work upon the 235th volume. When he came to the Bar John Bannister Gibson was Chief Justice and George Mifflin Dallas was Attorney General. And it we remember that Judge Gibson was appointed to the place in 1827 and has been dead now well on to fifty years, and I venture to say not more than two members of the present bar of this county ever saw him upon the Bench, we can gather some appreciation of the changes witnessed by a man of the age of Judge Elwell.

Take another point from which to measure the march of time. When Judge Elwell was born, George III. was king of Great Brittain, and Bonaparte had fought his brilliant Italian campaign and been crowned Emperor of the French. At that time there were but seventeen states in this union—James Madison was president of the United States and Thos. McKean was Governor of the State of Pennsylvania.

I need not in this presence speak of his legal attainments. It will be and remain one of the great recollections of our lives to remember his sure grasp and ready application of legal principles—his quick apprehension of the point counsel were making, his keen insight into the pinch of your case. If in a trial before him you had a case, you had the benefit of all there was in it, and if you had none it was labor lost to endeavor to build it up under his scrutinizing eye.

The study of his character and the example of his life as a judge, as a lawyer, as a citizen, as a man and as a Christian will be and should be the incentive to the constantly higher and higher endeavor to reach the exalted plane on which he stood grandly and steadily.

And though his body be entombed in the sepulchre of mortality, his name and fame will grow brighter as the days decline and the years pass off into eternity."

Judge Ikeler then addressed the members of the Bar, and said:

GENTLEMEN OF THE BAR:—From the earliest dawn of civilization men have been accustomed to gather together and pay their respects to the memory, talents and virtues of a departed friend. Even before christianity and civilization had calmed the rude passions and restrained the brutal instincts of mankind, the ignorant pagan and the untaught savage alike gathered beside the grave of their fallen chieftain to extol his prowess or mourn his loss.

And in paying this last tribute to the worthy dead, we not only honor their name, but benefit ourselves as well. Aside from the duty we owe the departed, it is wise for the best of us to lay aside for the moment our personal ambitions and selfish struggles; to pause in the whirl and hurry of our daily lives, and reflect upon the life, character and learning of a virtuous man and upright Judge.

I can say little of Judge Elwell that is not already known to the most of the members of the bar. For 26 years he went in and out before you as the President of this Court. It was here, in your presence, that his labor was performed, that his ability was exhibited, that his talents were exercised. To all of you, except possibly the younger members, his appearance, disposition and manner while upon the bench, is familiar. The records of the Court, the official reports of decisions evidence his skill in the disposition of causes far better than mere words of comparison or praise.

Like all Judges, he made mistakes. To say this is but to say, "he was human." But no man was more patient in listening to an exposition of his error, or more ready to correct it when once convinced of his mistake.

His active professional life was spent in a foreign county, and of his ability as a practitioner we know little except by repute. But in the earlier history of Bradford county his name as a practicing attorney stands in the foremost ranks of a Bar of more than ordinary ability.

In 1862 he came to this county, bearing with him the universal respect and admiration of his former friends and neighbors. To day his body is carried back to the scenes of his youth, followed by the regret and sorrow of all who had learned to know him in his adopted home.

When we reflect upon these things; when we think of his useful and honorable career, his long life and peaceful death, mingled with all our sorrow at his taking off, may we not be permitted to indulge a certain feeling of refined satisfaction that an all wise Providence has permitted so beautiful a rounding out of his high career, and that when the iron gates of inexorable death did finally close behind his retreating figure, there was neither the creaking of a bolt nor the grating of a hinge."

Upon the conclusion of the remarks of Judge Ikeler, William H. Rhawn, Esq., said:

"Mr. Chairman, I desire to pay a due tribute to the distinguished dead, and the tribute is this: The rule of conduct of Judge Elwell, as a minister of justice upon the judgment seat for more than a quarter of a century, was righteousness, the subject matter of the profession of the law—nay, more, its principal lesson, and which every member of the profession should prize above honor, success or wealth, as the rule to guide him in the discharge of his duties. It is, therefore, eminently proper that the profession as a body should by appropriate consideration and resolution perpetuate the character of Judge Elwell as a minister of justice; not that it will add to his fame, but because it will be, so long as time shall last a teacher to the profession of what constitutes righteousness, and more than that, a teacher that yonder judgment-seat continue as Judge Elwell left it, an emblem of that higher judgment-seat of which perfect righteousness is the habitation"

J. Boyd Robison, Esq., said: "I do not think that an occasion of this kind should pass without some of us who have practiced before Judge Elwell at least testifying to our respect for him as a judge and as a citizen. When we reflect that it is just a generation, in the ordinary acceptation of the term, since Judge Elwell came to this county, the bar here has almost entirely grown up under him. There are few of our present members who were members of the bar when he began to preside over the deliberations of the court. Myself, while one of the older members of the bar here, came several years after and became a member of the bar or was admittted to practice since Judge Elwell commenced holding courts in Columbia County. We have known him in active work for more than a quarter of a century and several years later as a citizen in our midst, and we speak of his high character as a judge and of his high character as a citizen. We also look with pleasure upon the fact that he attended to his duties with a heart filled with love for the profession which he had chosen. I was surprised to find that Judge Elwell, after his retirement from the bench, when there was no longer a field for the exercise of his abilities in his profession, when there was no longer any work for him to do, when he was simply waiting summons from a life well spent, took pleasure in keeping alive knowledge of the line of current judicial decision—the knowledge of the law. He read law journals, he read the reports, he studied. He was naturally a thorough student, and he kept up his studies to his dying day. He is an example to those who were with him and to those who come after him, to the young, of the excellency resulting from labor. His attention to his duties was given in industry—earnest, active, tireless, determined to do right and to make inquiry and find out and satisfy himself of that which was right. Judge Elwell has left his monument in better shape than we can give it here. Anything that we can say here can add nothing to that which is recorded, as your honor has well said, in the reports of the common pleas courts and of the supreme court; yet, as it is fitting that we should put upon record our appreciation of his high character, I suggest that the papers here read and others that I understand are in the possession of the president of our association, should be spread upon the minutes of the court of common pleas of this county, for Judge Elwell was particularly eminent as a judge of common pleas."

C. G. Barkley, Esq., said: With the exception of the president of our association and perhaps also the chairman of this meeting, I am the only member of the bar present who was engaged in practice at the time that Judge Elwell came here to perform the duties of president judge in this judicial district. I do not propose or expect to add anything new or better expressed than has been made here relative to the life of Judge Elwell and his work. I am unable adequately to express the respect which I have always had for him and which I believe has always been had by every member of the bar here, as well as also by the entire community within which he has resided during the last thirty-three years. He was just; he was true; he was reliable in all his affairs. His life was that of a good citizen, of one who desired that his work should prove good for human kind. Not selfish, not disposed to exalt himself but rather to serve his fellow men, as his life's work shows, the memory of him with those who have known him, who have seen his life, his self denial, his devotion to the truth, in a word his uprightness in every sphere of duty, may be, I hope, of even more advantage to the generation present and to those who shall follow than was in fact his life."

Hon. C. G. Murphy said: As the last remaining member of the bench from which Judge Elwell voluntarily retired, it is perhaps but fitting that I should add my tribute of respect to his memory. During my opportunity for observation of his judicial action I can testify to his kindness to all those who appeared before him. He encouraged the timid, he admonished the wavering; he loved them all. His memory will remain green in the community in which he lived when perhaps most of us will have been forgotten."

A communication was presented to the Bar meeting, from A. Logan Grim Esquire, of the Sullivan County Bar. It was an eloquent tribute to the kindness, learning ability and distinguishing characteristics of Judge Elwell. Mr. Grim was acquainted with him for many years and had practiced at the Bar of Sullivan county while Judge Elwell was the presiding Judge.

The communication was too long to print, and was ordered to be filed among the proceedings of the Bar commemorating the occasion. We can not however refrain from copying a paragraph. "The sculptured marble will return to its kindred dust—kingdoms will pass away as the dews of the morning—Empires will fall and the knowledge of their existence be buried in the tomb of oblivion—but the deeds of the good and the true will survive the devastations of time, and sparkle as the gems in the diadem of immortality."

On motion adjourned.

The funeral train reached Towanda at 3.40 in the afternoon, and was met at the depot by the members of the Bar of Bradford county, headed by Judge Peck. The remains were taken directly to Riverside Cemetery and buried in the family plot, the services being conducted by Rev. W. E. Daw, rector of Christ Church, Towanda. There was a large gathering of the citizens present at the cemetery, to do honor to the memory of one who, though he left them many years ago, had not been forgotten by them. The last prayers were said, the last words uttered, and the mortal remains of William Elwell were committed to the grave, "earth to earth, dust to dust. ashes to ashes." His life work is done, but the memory of his goodness, his greatness, his simplicity, his dignity, his perfect christian manhood, will remain with those who knew him, so long as life shall last.

WOMAN DROWNED.

Last Thursday afternoon quite an excitement was caused on the streets by the report being circulated that a woman had been accidently drowned in the canal at Port Noble. Investigation proved that the report was correct and that the unfortunate person was Mrs. John James. It appears that, owing to a scarcity of water at her own home, she had gone to the above named place to do her washing, and in stooping over to get some water from the canal, in some unaccountable manner her foot slipped, and she was precipitated into it. She was alone at the time and upon her failure to return her friends became alarmed, and in their search for her, discovered one of the buckets which she had taken for water on the bank, and immediately came to the conclusion that she had been drowned. The alarm was given, and search was made by Curt Logan, and Harry Rux, which resulted in finding her dead body on the bottom of the canal. An inquest was held by J. M. Clark Justice of the Peace, and the jury rendered a verdict of accidental death by drowning. She was a daughter of Agustus Brooks of Catawissa and was aged twenty-three years, six months and three days, and left to survive her a husband above named and one small child. The death was unusually sad, happening as it did only a few days after the return of her husband to Connecticut where he is employed. The funeral services were held from her late residence Sunday afternoon and she was taken to Catawissa for interment.

MRS. MARY ENT DEAD.

Surely during the past week, the grim harvester death has been at work in our midst, and has removed an unusually large number of our citizens. On last Thursday night Mrs. Mary Ent who resided on Centre Street was called to her rest. She had been sick only a very short time, and died at twenty minutes before seven o'clock. She was born March 11th 1842, and hence at the time of her death was fifty three years, seven months and six days old. She was the widow of the late Oscar Ent, and resided in Light Street, until about two years ago, when she moved to this town. She left to survive her a daughter, Clara, and two sons, Edward and Oscar. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at one o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church at Light Street conducted by her pastor Rev. B. C. Conner of this place and Rev. R. E' Wilson, pastor in charge. The circumstances surrounding this death were extremely sad, and the children and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

A YOUNG LADY DEAD.

On Monday afternoon, after a severe illness of typhoid fever Miss Nettie M. daughter of George F. Crist, residing on Leonard Street was called from her sufferings. She was aged seventeen years, three months and four days. Owing to her genial disposition of character, she was a favorite among her companions who, as well as all her other friends, mourn her death. The remains were taken to Gordner's Grove Baptist Church Wednesday morning and the services were conducted by Rev. Crawford of Unityville.

Mr. Grant Richart died at his residence in San Diego, California October 11ult. The funeral services were held at the residence of George M. D. Newhard at Milton Pa. last Sunday. He was aged 30 years and 27 days, and was a nephew of Mrs. Samuel Neyhard and W. C. Richart of this place. His father died in Millville about twenty-two years ago, after which he and his mother moved to the above named State.

William Gingles, and J. K. Bittenbender, who have been summoned as traverse and grand jurors respectively in the United States Court at Pittsburg left for that place last Sunday evening on the Pennsylvania Rail Road.

BROKE THE BOTTLE.

An Accident Saved the Drug Clerk From Consequences of a Blunder.

This is tragedy or comedy, according to the light in which you view it.

One of the proprietors of a drug store in Atlanta was not long ago a drug clerk in a small city. There were two drug clerks in the store at the time. They divided the time, answering the calls at night and getting shorter hours in the day, and the other doing long hours.

"One night," said the Atlanta man, "I was in my room over the drug store. I couldn't sleep, somehow, and I tossed about on my bed until I decided to pass the time reading. After a bit I heard someone come in the drug store below and I heard my partner get up and wait on the customer. In a few minutes I heard the customer go out and everything was quiet again. But quiet only for a short time.

"Presently I heard my colleague below walking about uneasily, and I could tell by the nervous way in which he walked about that something was the matter. I went down and found the young man walking up and down the floor, great beads of perspiration standing out on his brow and agony written all over his face.

"'I don't know what on earth to do,' he broke out in absolute despair, 'I made a mistake with that prescription. I was so sleepy I did not know—but somehow I kept thinking after the boy left that I had made a mistake, and I went to the arsenic and found that sure enough I'd put enough arsenic in that prescription to kill three men. For God's sake, if you think of anything that can be done, tell me quick.'

"His face was drawn and white and his mind was at a terrible tension. 'Speak, speak, for God's sake, for the boy was in a hurry and the man's already taken it, I'm afraid.'

"'Where does he live?' I asked.

"His face fell and an expression of terror came over it. He dropped into a chair.

"'I don't know,' he gasped.

"I sat down facing him and for what seemed an hour we sat there looking at each other, not speaking a word. What passed through our minds no human words can tell. We saw the dreadful effect of the mistake—death, disgrace to us, ruin to the establishment, criminal charge and forever afterwards the frightful knowledge of having been criminally careless. Black pictures filled our minds. It was an awful moment.

"We started at every little sound. We listened for the cry of the family of the sick one. We could see the patient writhing in the throes of death—death brought on by a terrible, a criminal, an inexcusable mistake. The cold sweat stood out all over us.

"There came a sound outside. We listened intently. There was a knock on the door. We both sprang to our feet. I rushed to the door.

"A small boy stood there crying. He held the remnants of some broken pieces of glass in his hands. He threw his arm over his eyes and cried as if his heart would break.

"'Oh, mister, please, sir—please sir,' he blubbered. 'I couldn't help it. I stumped my toe and —boo hoo!—fell down, and—boo hoo!—broke the bottle.'

"We both seized him in our arms. My companion gave him the sort of an embrace that one gives to his sweetheart after a year's separation and we wept on his neck. The way we set that boy up before letting him go ought to have set a premium on breaking bottles among the small boys of that town."—Atlanta Constitution.

A Tomato Soup Costume.

This is the simple story of a can of tomatoes bought in good faith by the nicest little woman that any-body ever knew, who has quite recently taken upon herself the care and guidance of a great big man, who poses around town as her husband, but who is really her adopted child. He needs direction and piloting. Not knowing the manners and customs of womankind, George remarked the other day—one of the reasons for calling him George is that that is his name—that when he was a boy the folks used to have a most marvelous kind of tomato soup, which he did not believe could be duplicated by the resources of his household under its present direction. This put Mrs. George on her nettle, her people having a reputation for cooking which they cherished. Mrs. George was, unfortunately for her, the family pet. Everybody used to call her all kinds of ridiculous names, and refuse to take her seriously, and so she was never thoroughly grounded in the art of making soup.

But then anybody could can make soup by the light of nature. You can buy canned soup for 15 cents in any grocery, that needs nothing but heating to be satisfactory to the average palate. Mrs. George had been told this by somebody, and set out to get some of it. She bought a can, brought it home, and cooked it with her own fair hands.

It appears that there are certain misguided tomatoes that have strongly developed anarchistic tendencies, and it was 15 cents' worth of the social revolt that Mrs. George brought home, rather than quelled and quieted tomato soup, as she had purposed. Her grocer had mistaken her order and had given her a can that had been in stock for some time, awaiting a bride. She put the whole package just as it came into the boiling water, and in less time than it takes to tell it, that kitchen was frescoed with tomatoes after a fashion that would be the despair of an impressionist artist. There were red vegetables over everything, including Mrs. George. Ceiling, walls and bride just dripped with esculent substance and hot water, and there was no one there to wipe her spoiled gown, or to permit himself to be cried upon. Of course, she wasn't hurt, or this story could not be told, because she is too sweet a little housewife to have insult added to injury; but she was very mad, and the more she considered her petticoat the madder she became. Of course, it was George's fault—that stood out like a door knob—she didn't want any tomato soup. It was George's appetite that had cried out for that luxury, not hers. But she said nothing except this, when George returned home: "Say George, when your mother made that tomato soup you were telling about this morning, did she wear a mackintosh around the house, or just carry an umbrella?"—Chicago Herald.

CLEVER SWINDLE.

Induced a Merchant to Indorse a Check for Him by a Peculiar Sort of Reasoning.

"One of the cleverest swindling schemes I ever heard of was successfully worked right here in this city," said District Attorney Barnes the other day, as the lawyers in the Whiteman case sat talking together while they waited for the verdict of the jury.

"The case was brought to my office, but try as we would we could find no charge that would fit the case and upon which there was any chance of securing a conviction. The principal was a bright young man, and he dropped into one of the large jewelry houses one day and asked to see some diamonds.

"He seemed particularly pleased with a pair of big solitaires, but the price, $750, seemed too much for him. 'It's my wife's birthday to-morrow,' he said, 'and I haven't $750 now. Of course, I'm a stranger, and I suppose you couldn't trust me?'

The salesman said he thought not.

"The would-be purchaser still fingered the stones, and then, as if struck by a bright idea, he mentioned the name of a prominent capitalist and asked the clerk if he knew the man. The clerk said yes. The man mentioned had an account at the store.

"'I'll tell you what I'll do, then,' said the buyer. 'He gave me this check a day or two ago, and I'll indorse it over to you in payment for these diamonds.'

The check was for $1,000, and after some consultation with the heads of the firm it was decided to accept the trade, and the stranger departed with his jewels.

"Becoming suspicious, however, the jeweller took the check to the man who was supposed to have made it, and he at once denounced it as a forgery. Then a hunt was commenced for the stranger, and when found the check was handed to him and the diamonds were demanded from him.

"He denied that the check was a forgery; said there was some mistake somewhere, and that he would see it all right, but as the jewellers were becoming anxious he finally proposed that he give back the diamonds and they should return the check.

"The diamonds were brought, and after being examined under a magnifying glass, were found to be the same ones sold the day before. The check was given back, but as the jewellers turned to go the stranger pointed out that the check was useless to him with his indorsement to them on the back, unless they reindorsed it to him. This they did, and departed.

No sooner had they gone than the holder of the check went down to their bank, and, on the jewelry firm's indorsement, collected the face value of the check.

"It was not a forgery," concluded Mr. Barnes, "for we had no evidence to show that it was not obtaining goods under false pretences for the diamonds were given back to the firm, and it was not obtaining money under false pretences, because the note was indorsed back again.

"We could not hold him on any charge, and he went free, while the firm paid the amount of the check."—San Francisco Call.

A Financier.

He was a very little fellow, but as bright as a dollar, as pretty as a Cupid, with more of a regard for personal appearance than the god of love, and lived in the suburbs. He had been saving up his pennies, nickels, and dimes with the understanding that on his birthday he should be permitted to go to town to spend his money just as he might see fit. The day came, and with his aunt he visited the city and spent the entire day away from home. When he returned in the evening his father asked him if he had enjoyed himself.

His nonchalant reply was: "Yes, sir."

"Did you spend all your money?" was asked suggestively.

"Yes, sir."

"What did you buy?" queried the parent.

"B'nanas."

"You don't mean to tell me you spent all your money for bananas?"

"Yes, sir."

"Good heavens, child, why did you throw away all your money on bananas? Surely you did not eat all you bought with that $2.

"No, sir I dess boughted 'em all day, an' I did eated two of 'em. Den I had lots o' fun skinnin' the others an' throwin' 'em at dogs."—Indianapolis Sentinel.

T at Office Boy.

In the office of one of the most scholarly lawyers is a sign attached to a roll-top desk which seems to throw discredit upon the education of the attorney in question, as follows:

"Please don't throw papers on this hear desk."

"Please put the telefone book where it belong, it don't belong on those premises.

"Please don't bother me.

"Please get out quickeren you come in."

It is needless to say that the desk was the property of the office boy.

TESTS OF FARM MACHINES.

Interesting Experiments With Draughts of Agricultural Implements.

Bulletins No. 4 and No. 7 of the Utah Experiment Station contain interesting results from tests of draught of farm wagons, plows, mowing machines and harrows, as measured by a self-recording dynamometer.

The conclusions as stated in these bulletins are as follows:

That colters add to draught of plows by some 15 per cent. That trucks or wheels under the end of the plow beam decrease draught by about 14 per cent., add uniformity to the furrow and lessen the work of the plowman.

When the traces are not in line with the draught of the plow the draught is increased.

Lengthening the hitch slightly decreased the draught. A share badly sharpened increased the draught 36 per cent. over a new share. A dull share drew harder than a sharp one, but not as hard as a badly sharpened share. Draught decreases with the depth and with the width per square inch of soil.

Walking plows gave slightly less draught than sulky plows with rider. Sulky plows drew easier down hill, but much harder up hill than walking plows. A share straight on its land side and bottom took land well and gave a slight decrease of draught. A loss of draught was found in a sulky plow when its adjustment to take land was made from the pole.

A wagon with fellies 1½ inches wide drew on moist, but close, blue grass sward 41.6 per cent. harder than wheels with fellies 3 inches wide. On a dirt road, slightly moist, the narrow tires drew 12.7 per cent. heavier than the wide tires.

Draught on plank road is one-fiftieth of the load, and not one-seventh of the draught on a dirt road in its ordinary condition after a rain.

A load over the hind wheels drew 10 per cent. easier than over the front wheels.

Lowering the reach, or the coupling pole, on the hind wheels decreased draught; wagons draw easier when the traction has an upward incline, and harder when horses are hitched to the end of the pole.

Loose burrs reduced draught 4.5 per cent.

An old mowing machine repaired drew easier than a new one.

The draught was 8.7 per cent. greater for a well-sharpened sickle than for one more nicely sharpened.

A pitman box set tight gave less draught than one set quite loosely.

When cutter bar is not near right line with pitman rod the draught is increased.

When guards are out of line the draught is increased.

When cutter bar inclines upward draught is decreased.

When the sections of the sickle do not strike in the centre of the guards the draught is increased.

The draught was decreased ten pounds by the driver walking.

A loss of force was observed when the wheel at the end of cutter bar failed to work well.

Mutton and Wool.

In a very careful and thoughtful article written by Henry Stewart he discusses in the Sheep Breeder the production of mutton vs. wool:

"As fashions change, the supplies for the manufacturers must change with them, and thus it is that the shepherd should be in close touch with the wool manufacturers, who use his product. The woolen manufacturers of England, which sustain several large towns, specially devoted to this industry, are supplied from all the world, the English shepherds producing but a small part of their raw material. This is unavoidable, because the climate and the methods of farming are not suited to the product of the finest wool. So it is that the sheep's purpose in living in England is to yield the best mutton and the fleece is a secondary object.

"As the laws of business are based on the same exigencies in all countries, the rapid growth of the United States will soon bring us into the same predicament, which must be met by the same conditions of the wool growing industry, so that we may expect that American shepherds will soon be producing mutton more than wool, and our wool will be such as is grown on the best mutton sheep. The special wool bearer is not the product of a highly civilized community, for a pastoral life does not admit of this, but it is carried on in a sort of semi-wild condition of life, as has been the case on our Western plains rather than of farms. Farming calls for quite different conditions of life, and it must in time happen that the majority of our flocks will be kept on farms, and not on the far-away ranches, where wool growing must be the prime object of the shepherd.

"Now, the wool grower wants sheep that will produce the staple at the lowest cost, the farmer wants the wool and the mutton, and as he cannot hope to compete on favorable terms with the special wool grower, he must go in for mutton sheep, and thus produce the coarser fleeces of the large sheep or the cross breeds. Cross-breeding has always been the most profitable part of the business of the shepherd, and the English farmers, who are proverbially successful producers of mutton, are noted the world over for the profit they make from their flocks. The majority of farms in that country are managed on this basis, and the rotation of their crops is chosen especially that the sheep may have a good pasture on the young clover, and a plentiful crop of roots which are either consumed in the land for the sake of manure, dropped and spread in the best possible manner, or for feeding the fattening sheep through the winter. It is thus that the English sheep outnumber the inhabitants of England, while we cannot show more than half this proportion."

Rattlesnake Antedote.

That strychnine is a sure antidote for the poison of a rattlesnake or any other serpent is announced in a document published by the United States Government, through the Smithsonian Institute. The author of the paper is a celebrated expert in snake poisons, Dr. Leonard Stejneger. Alcohol, says this authority, is not an antidote at all, but if given in small quantities stimulates the patient to withstand the poison until an antidote is found, while large quantities hasten the fatal effect of the poison. Liquid strychnine is to be administered by hypodermic injections, by a physician.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held in the City Hall Tuesday evening of last week, all the members being present. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved, S. D. Neyhard appeared and stated that the citizens owning land on Fourth Street between West and Railroad desired to build and lay pavements. That it was impossible to do any filling until they had the proper grade. On motion the Town Engineer was instructed to give them the grade. He also wanted the council to put a crossing over Fourth Street on the east side of West Street. Referred to committee on highways. The bond of J. K. Bittenbender Tax Collector was approved.

Bond was in the sum of $7500 with J. G. Freeze and Grant Herring Esqs.

The amount turned over for collection as security was $5895.41. He stated that he had sent thirty days notice to a lot of parties who still owed their taxes for 1894 amounting to $600 requesting payment and that he had called upon them and had failed to receive a dollar and asked the council for instruction. He was informed that the council had nothing to do with the matter. They needed the money, and he must collect it. The old trouble between Jacob Deiffenbach, and his neighbor Daniel Kashner in regard to a pig pen received, another airing. This is an old matter which has been before the council nearly every meeting. Deiffenbach alleges that there is stench arising from Kashner's pin pen, and Kashner makes the same charge against him.

It seems there is some private trouble between these parties and Councilman Lockard informed Mr. Deiffenbach that they were not elected to settle private disputes. The matter was referred to the Board of Health Committee. On motion of Gorry and Wilson the Secretary was instructed to prepare a resolution so as to enable the Town to issue bonds bearing 4½ per cent. interest to the limit allowed by law. By re-issuing those falling due this year, bonds in the sum of $9900 could be issued. The committee to procure supplies for the Wynona Fire Company reported that they had attended to that duty.

The Committee on Light was instructed to wait upon the Electric Light Company and ascertain the lowest price for which they would light the Town for one year to report at a special meeting to be held October 24th. In regard to the excavations &c on the Light Street road J. L. Richardson stated that it would be necessary to excavate 955 cubic yards of earth and offered to remove it for 20 cents per cubic yard. After considerable discussion it was referred to the committee on highways. Upon motion the Town Solicitor was instructed to draft a resolution in regard to the death of the Hon. William Elwell and that the same be entered upon the minutes of the Council.

L. S. Wintersteen Esq., presented a petition asking for a crossing over West Street on the north side of Fifth Street. Referred to committee on highways. Mr. Gorry made a motion which was seconded by Mr. Wilson that immediate steps be taken to open Jefferson and North Streets. The vote was follows: Aye—Gorry, Wilson, Hartman. Nay—Lockard, Knorr, Kester. President Creasy cast his vote in the affirmative.

A question arose as whether the motion had been properly carried and Creasy withdrew his vote to give him an opportunity of examining into the question. This matter drew out considerable discussion. Creasy in explaining his reason for voting in the affirmative said "that he did not want to throw the Town into debt but thought the streets should be opened.

The fact that he lived in the vicinity of Jefferson Street did not influence him. Several of the members wanted to know where the money was coming from, and upon intimation that the money realized from the sale of the new bonds would be used, President Creasy said that it could not be used for that purpose.

Street Commissioner Housel reported that the following pavements should be raised, Mrs. Wyncoop on Centre Street, James Sterner on Fifth Street, Funk & Billmyer on East Street, Edward Harrar on Fifth Street and E. R. Ikeler on Second Street.

Secretary was authorized to notify them to raise the same to grade within 30 days.

Hood's Pills cure biliousness, indigestion.

Practical Poultry Papers.

An important factor toward sucess in keeping poultry is proper feeding and watering. Fowls which have a free range of wood and instinctively select what meets their physical requirments. Under ordinary circumstances, in a condition of freedom, a fowl travels immense distances in effect, before it gets all the food it needs, being on foot all day. The nearer one can come to nature in treating poultry in confinement the better. Nature does not feed in bulk. Grain grows high on slender stalks, swayed by every puff of air. A hen, if she had free access to growing oats, would have to jump up and down until exhausted before she could eat oats to repletion; indeed, she would have to stop long before she could fill her crop. The lesson of this is, whenever you feed grain to fowl, scatter it far and wide among short dry litter of some sort, so that they will have to hunt and scratch for it, tne more the better, as this furnishes healthful exercise. Wheat, barley, oats, and corn, named in the order of their value, are good poultry foods. Wheat heads the list as richest in the phosphatic, mineral, and nitrogeneous principles so necessary for building up and repairing the waste to which the lazy hen is subject.

In summer fowls in confinement need plenty of green food. If the "runs" are sufficiently spacious to keep up a supply of grass it will be a great advantage, otherwise it will be well to buy periodically supplies of fresh grass and clover to be chopped up fine; also to have all the vegetable remnants from the kitchen boiled and chopped for the fowls. In the early morning give a mixture of middlings, bran, boiled vegatable peelings, and other remnants, such as bread, meat, and scraps from the table. Scald the middlings and bran, and then incorporate with the vegetables; add a heaping teaspoon of salt for twenty-four hens. Let this meal be made damp, not sloppy, and allow a tablespoonful to each fowl. Middlings contain all the phosphates and the principles of the best wheat kernel, and therefore it makes a fine egg-producing food. At noon, if the "runs" do not produce enough grass, give fine chopped grass and clover, and if worms and insects are not accessible, twice a week finely chopped meat. Before sunset give the heartiest meal of the day—a grain supper, wheat one day, oats the next, then barley; but no corn for laying hens in summer, as it is too fattenning and heating.—Harper's Bazar.

Use it in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrance. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

Great Boom in Lace Making.

Republican Calamity Howlers Said the Mill Would Have to Close.

During the late tariff discussion, information received from Wilkesbarre states Republican orators claimed that if the McKinley bill was repealed, the Wilkesbarre Lace Factory, the largest plant of its kind in the country, would have to suspend operations. Just the contrary has happened. The mill was never so busy as it is now, and owing to the increased demand for the products of the mill, an order was placed recently with a New England manufacturer for 8000 new spindles and other additional machinery. This addition will increase the capacity 50 per cent.

A KINGDOM FOR A HORSE.

The fair always leaves in the mind of some people, a desire to own a fast horse. If they happen to be the owner of one, it must develop more speed, and if they are not so fortunate they are not satisfied until they secure one. One of our business men caught the fever a few days since, and he was just in the midst of receiving the congratulations of his friends over his acquisition, when he received the intelligence that, his newly acquired horse and its former owner were going toward Espy as fast as the thoroughbred runner could travel. Horse deals were at a discount in a minute. Perhaps it might be intersting to know just how he came to be possessed of the animal, and by what means he nearly became deprived of it. Tuesday afternoon, October 15, the business man referred to, received a visit from a colored man who informed him that he had shipped a running horse to Bloomsburg on Wednesday October 9 which he had intended entering in the races at the fair, but that when he arrived on Thursday the entries had closed and the Penna. R. R. Co. had levied on the horse for the freight due on its transportation from Harrisburg. That he desired to take the animal out of the hands of the officers, and return home to secure money to pay the costs, and the keeping of the animal to this time. That the amount of money necessary to do all this was about $30, which, if the said business man would advance him, he would leave as security the horse, blankets, saddle and his watch. The fellow appearing to be honest, and the security ample, he sent one of his clerks with him to pay the bills, and take the horse to his stable. Everything went off according to program until it came to the point when the horse was to be delivered, when instead of doing that he gave him a cut and started up the Espy road on his back. The clerk who was in a buggy, went in immediate pursuft, and the way old "Bob" took him up the road was a caution. At Espy, inquiries were made as to the direction taken by the man, a new horse secured, and with the assistance of two men the chase was continued. He was finally captured on the hill back of Espy, brought to that place, and the business man informed by telephone that the man and horse had been secured. It was subsequently brought to this place, and is now safely housed in a burglar proof stable. No other horse dealers need apply.

Note—Since the above was written the business man referred to, has received the money advanced by him, and the horse has been turned over to a party in Light Street under the same conditions.

Treatment of Eczema and Salt Rheum.

These two complaints are so tenacious that the readers of the COLUMBIAN should know of the success obtained by using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Where all treatments have failed, it has made a complete cure.

Perhaps no more horrible case of Salt Rheum was ever reported than that of Wilbur L. Hale, quartermaster, Pratt Post, G. A. R., Rondout, N. Y. Several physicians utterly failed to render him any relief; finally one of the physicians suggested that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy be tried and steady improvement followed its use, and a permanent cure resulted.

It is used with similiar success in cases of scrofula, nervousness, kidney and liver complaints, and in all diseases brought about by bad blood and shattered nerves.

The water is now all out of the Ebervale mine, the tunnel having successfully emptied the mine which was flooded eight years ago by the breaking in of a creek. The mine will be reopened at once.

It is now given out that Quay and Hastings have buried the hatchet, and that both are gunning for Magee and the Philadelphia end of the combine.

A Minister's Experience With Heart Disease.

Rev. L. W. Showers, Elderton, Pa.: "For many years my greatest enemy has been organic heart disease. From uneasiness about the heart, with palpitation, it had developed into thumping, fluttering, and choking sensations. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave instant relief. A few bottles have rid me of almost every symptom of heart disease. It is a wonder-worker." Sold by Wm. S. Rishton. 6-15-1y.

Printing in Colors.

The prices of colored printing inks have gone down with everything else, and it costs no more to do printing in colors than it does in black. THE COLUMBIAN office is prepared to print in any of the following colors: Black, orange, deep cherry, brown lake, light blue, ultra marine blue, bronze red, violet, dark red, green, jacqueminôt, purple, garnet, peacock blue. Printing in more than one color is done at a slight advance for the additional press work. tf.

WOMEN ARE CARELESS.

They Over-Estimate Their Physical Strength. Advice to Young Women.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Women are very apt to over-estimate their strength and overtax it.

When they are feeling particularly well, they sometimes take chances which in the long run cause them much pain and trouble. This is due largely to their not fully realizing how delicate their sensitive organism is.

The girl who has just become a woman can hardly be expected to act wisely, everything is so new to her. She, however, should be told; and every woman should realize that to be well her "monthly periods" should be regular. Wet feet, or a cold from exposure, may suppress or render irregular and fearfully painful the menses, and perhaps sow the seed for future ill health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will ever be the unfailing remedy in such cases as well as all the peculiar ailments of women. Millions of women live to prove this. Mrs. M. L. Verrill tells plainly what it has done for her:—

"I will write you a few lines to tell you what my troubles were before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It was the same old story,—my back and lower part of my abdomen and painful menstruation. Of course it was female weakness. The doctors (I have tried five different ones) called it chronic inflammation of the womb.

"I had leucorrhœa for over eight years, ulcers on the neck of the womb, terrible headaches and backaches. Your medicine completely cured me." — MRS. M. L. VERRILL, 223 Newell Ave., Pawtucket, R.I.

SENATOR HERRING VINDICATED.

Inasmuch as some of the newspapers lately have been full of the charges preferred by W. J. Burke against Collector Herring of this District, and an investigation has been held resulting in a complete vindication of the Collector, both on the charge of official misconduct, and that of immoral character, we deem it but justice to Mr. Herring to give a brief account of the investigation. The charge that he had not sufficiently collected the special taxes was made by Burke just prior to Mr. Herring's departure for Europe, and during his absence Col. W. W. Colquit, a special agent of the department, made an investigation which resulted in finding that not only had the regular county licensed houses been paying taxes to the government, but over 278 others, reflecting great credit on his administration, and this was even a better showing than they had reason to expect. Not satisfied however with this, Burke proceeded again to file charges reflecting on his private character and official administration. Upon being invited to come to Washington by the Commissioner to hear the charges in person, Mr. Herring went, and was able to successfully disprove every charge preferred, and at his invitation Col. Colquit again went to Scranton to investigate for himself. He arrived there on the 15th of October and immediately sent for Burke to come and prove his case. The hearing began the next morning. The first witness called by Burke was James C. Noll, who had been discharged from the service last May. But notwithstanding his hostility to the collector, every word of his testimony was in his favor. He bore witness to the honest and careful administration of the affairs of the office, beside testifying that he never even heard of any immoral conduct on the part of the collector inside, or outside of the office.

The next witness was Simon P. Fausold, the present chief deputy, who has been in the service of the collector ever since he took charge of the office. In unmistakable terms he showed that every charge preferred by Burke was maliciously false. His duties required him to be in the office from 7 o'clock a. m. to 10 and 11 o'clock p. m. He testified that there never was the slightest exhibition of immoral conduct on the part of the collector, either in or out side the office. That he never heard of his being accused of such conduct, that Mr. Herring bore an unimpeached reputation for morality. He further showed that the affairs of the office were in a prosperous condition, through the diligence and activity of the collector and his deputies. That the collections of Internal Revenue in this the 12th District of Penn'a have regularly increased, to a remarkable degree, whilst in some others they had decreased. The next witness was W. H. White, the night watchman, who is always on duty from 6 o'clock p. m. to 6. o'clock a. m. He testified that he never saw any act of immorality in or around the office, and that no immoral practice could have been carried on without his knowledge. After Burke had thus proven the absolutely correct moral and official character of the collector, he became so angry that he withdrew from the room, and refused to call any more witnesses. He took refuge in charging the Revenue Agent with unfairness and partiality and filed charges against him with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Col. Colquit however to fully satisfy himself, personally called on all the witnesses that had been named by Burke at Washington as the ones by whom he would substantiate his charges, and all of them, without exception, even Craig, whom Mr. Herring had discharged, just before going to Europe, corroborated the other witnesses in every particular. The agent made his report to Washington exonerating the collector from all guilt. The reason for this exhibition of spite on the part of Burke was briefly as follows: He was appointed General store keeper and gauger in this District by Mr. Herring. When the Income Tax law was passed, he begged the collector to promote him to Deputy collector of these taxes, and resigned his former position. He was so appointed, and ex-sheriff Moury of this county was appointed to the position formerly held by him. After the law had been declared unconstitutional, the collector was ordered by the Department at Washington to discharge all persons appointed for the collection of that tax, and Burke was accordingly discharged. He asked to be re-appointed to his old position, but the office of General store keeper and gauger being protected by the civil service rules, the collector had no power to dismiss Sheriff Moury excepting by preferring charges of official misconduct against him. This he was unwilling to do, because Mr. Mourey was a competent official. On that account he was not re-instated, and for that reason he began this system of persecution.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

After the sale at Miller's across the river on Tuesday, several teams took a short cut for home. By doing so they were obliged to go down a very steep road which is rarely used. Among the party was John Hidlay and wife prominent residents of Scott township, and Hurley Angle of Espy. Mr. Hidlay was in the lead, Angle following, with Wel Miller in the buggy with him. His horse was too light to hold back the load, and in rearing came down upon Mr. Hidlay overturning both buggies. Mr. Hidlay was severely injured about the head and shoulders. Mrs. Hidlay jumped and was not hurt. Angle and Miller also jumped and escaped injury.

STRIKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

N. J. Hendershot, Tuesday afternoon whilst working on his back porch on Main Street was suddenly stricken with paralysis. Aid was immediately summoned, and he was carried into the house, and remained unconscious for some time. Examination showed that his entire left side was paralyzed. At the present writing he is resting as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances.

A LONG DRIVE.

Rev. J. R. Morris, who is eighty-seven years of age arrived in Orangeville a few days since having driven from Iowa. He formerly resided in this County and went west several years ago. His wife having recently died, he determined to visit the land of his youth and took the above mentioned method of coming East. He will remain during the winter visiting friends.

WILKES-BARRE, PA.,
October 23, 1895.

A Weekly Chat between the Merchant and his patrons we believe would be mutually beneficial, providing always the Dealer had something of interest to talk about. In a great big store like ours, devoted to the sale of everything needed in the household, it is not hard to find some new thing whose better acquaintance would be eagerly sought by our women friends, if the proper introduction were given. Advertising attains this end chiefly, yet how are advertisements exaggerated! how often do they misrepresent. Our object in these talks will be to inform you when we have special goods to sell, something that we know will be of benefit to you, and our rule will be to underestimate rather than exaggerate. Sometimes we will tell you of the latest fashion in Dress fabrics. Again we will talk about our cafe, where the visitor to town may find choice things to eat at reasonable prices, where a cup of delicious coffee will refresh you and fit you for the work you've laid out for the day. You will find many comforts here that are not provided by any other store, and you may feel sure that anything found here cannot be otherwise than right. We hold the highest position a mercantile house can have, have the confidence of the people, and ask your help in making this position still stronger.

Our Mail Order Department is in skilled hands and any communications from you will be intelligently and promptly acted upon. Sometimes you may want a sample of goods. You have only to make your wishes known through the medium of the mails, it will be a pleasure for us to send you what you want. Then the system of buying by mail is made easy. Tell us as near as you can what you need; our clerks will take the same interest in your letter as though you stood before the counter. If you don't receive what you want you are not obligated to keep it, but you may feel certain we will try to fill your order as nearly to your wish as possible, and at the right price—and the question of price is important. Our far away friends need price protection, we give it to you, you will not be charged a penny more than is demanded of our home patrons.

Our Dress Goods Department. Improved, up to date, contains everything a lady needs in Imported and Domestic Dress Fabrics. We want to acquaint you this week with some choice goods especially adapted for the Fall Season. Write at once for samples then to secure a Dress pattern at these low prices. Your order should reach us within a week. Remember these are Mail Order special sales for the benefit of those who cannot come to the store in person, and we have made the prices low to give you all the advantages of a home patron.

Fine Dress Serge, splendid quality, never sold for less than 75 cents, will be sent to you this week for the yard, 49 cents.

All Wool Henriettas, with that soft, silky finish, so desirable in a Dress Fabric. Like the Serges, they come in all colors, including black. They are as staple as gold and are eagerly sought after by ladies who like their costumes Tailor Made, the proper thing for a fine suit. We have always sold these fabrics at 75 cents. To our Mail Order friends this week the price will be 49 cents.

The popular ladies' cloth, 54 inches wide, Black and Colors, the Standard fabric for Dresses, Gowns and Capes, rich and dressy, will be offered to Mail Order friends this week at 49 cents.

Please write for samples at once or order direct, enclosing remittance. You will be pleased with the results.

WATER AT LAST.

At last water in sufficient quantity has been found at the carpet mill. The work of drilling has been going steadily on for a long time, and on Saturday the depth of 325 feet had been reached, when an abundant supply was found. It was tested on Saturday and they pumped 40000 gallons in six hours. This is sufficient for all purposes, but they will drill twenty-five feet deeper.

SHOULD BE PATRONIZED.

Always ready to be up with the times, and willing to comply with the demands of the public, the Normal School has made arrangements to open a night school commencing November 4th. The rate of tuition is very low, and the roll should be immediately filled. There are many of our young people working in the mills and factories who should embrace this opportunity of preparing themselves for better positions in life. The number of pupils will be limited, hence those who propose attending should enroll themselves at once, which can be done by informing the principal any time previous to October 31, 1895.

ELEVATOR PLANT.

Negotiations are pending for the purchase of the Elevator Plant by a syndicate from Philadelphia. If the deal is consummated, it will be started with its old time activity in the near future. It is said to be the best, and finest equipped plant of the kind in the country. For the benefit of the Town we hope the rumor may prove true.

The cellar wall for one of the buildings which Mr. Lauer is having erected on West Main Street is finished, and work has been commenced on another one.

The Best Advertisement

Is a well pleased customer. We do not expect to make our everlasting fortune this year, but we do expect to so increase our following that success will be ours in the terrestrial bye and bye. Just now then, we would rather make customers than money, rather have a big crowd and a small profit, than a big profit and a small crowd.

Underwear.

We advertised underwear last week and yet we want to keep it before you just now, as it is the time of year when you should have it. Don't wait too long but come while the assortment lasts. All sorts, sizes and kinds of underwear, for every body and at any price. We have an extra heavy ribbed vest and drawers for ladies at 25c. each. Others, all wool, ribbed or plain, seperate or combination suits at reasonable prices.

Coats.

"Cold this morning." You can hear that expression on every hand when you come out these brisk October mornings. No need of being cold now-a-days when coats and wraps are in reach of all. Would you like to see them? We can show you an elegant assortment of them from $5 up. Any price you want, lined, unlined or half lined. Rough goods are all the rage, but we have some smooth. If you want an elegant assortment to choose from we have it.

Dress Goods.

Same story concerning dress goods. Our stock never larger or more complete. Here is something at 42c., all wool and one of the latest novelties. How do you like this? It is just new this year. Well it has no name, rough goods, 52 in. wide, $1.50. Oh, yes, we have just lots of goods between these prices. Here is one at $1.00, same as the $1.50 rough goods. Not as wide, not as fine, yet extremely stylish.

Shoes.

Can't possibly get along without shoes and boots in winter. Have you tried ours? We can suit you in them without a doubt and there are none that wear better or more stylish. Babies shoes, all widths and all sizes. Your boys want school shoes. Now we are selling the best school shoe in town. Can't equal for wear or price. Men's boots and shoes for common, and best at any price. Our knit felt boots are without an equal. Try them.

Dishes.

Just received an elegant line of plain and fancy decorated China. Not so very expensive when you consider the quality. Can suit you in any kind you want. Decorated limoges, and have hand wear. Our window is full of decorated sets at different prices. Plain white iron stone, warranted not to craze, at rock bottom prices. Have a few semi-porcelain tea sets we are closing out at half price, $2.00 the set.

Lamps.

If you are in the market for a lamp we can suit you. Any kind at any price from 20c. to $12.00. Largest assortment we ever had and complete throughout.

Groceries.

In this department we carry a full line of fancy and staple goods. Our corn 2 4 25c. can't be equaled. We sold the same last year at 15c. Crackers and cakes to suit you in price and quality.

W. H. Gilmore gave an oyster supper to his surviving comrades Co. E. 132 Reg. Penna. Volunteers at his restaurant on Monday evening. Of course they had a good time, as he always treats his guests in a royal manner. It was almost enough to pay for all the suffering they endured at the front to be invited to attend one of "Gillys" lay outs. After they had eaten all they possibly could, he got out his band and entertained them with music for a considerable length of time.

SIMON LONG'S SONS,

10 AND 12 SOUTH MAIN ST., WILKES-BARRE.

Don't throw that old garment away.

You can make it look like new for 10c. How? By the use of a package of the imported German Household Dyes. It makes no difference whether it is wool, cotton, silk, or linen, the same dye does the work for all. There is where it has a big advantage over all others. Then you get a piece of yarn with each package which shows you the exact color you get. They are all fine bright colors and guaranteed fast. Try them and you will use no other. The price is 10c. We also have Diamond Dyes, Ext. Logwood and a full line of dye stuffs. This should save you money and if you watch this space every week you will save more.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18th, 1895.

Carry the good news to Dixie! Mrs. Cleveland and the ladies of the cabinet will probably accompany President Cleveland and his entire cabinet when they leave Washington for the Atlanta Exposition, next Monday. Mrs. Cleveland did not intend to go, but when she learned how disappointed the thousands who had never seen her but hoped to do so at the exposition and en route would be if she did not, she, with her usual good nature and obliging disposition, has been almost persuaded to change her mind and go.

President Cleveland and all the members of his Cabinet met for the first time in several months at the regular cabinet meeting this week. The meeting was more in the nature of a friendly social gathering than one of business, although there was some exchange of opinions and informal discussion of important matters bearing upon the session of Congress.

Sympathy for the Cuban revolutionists is a perfectly natural feeling in the hearts of Americans, but the zeal of an enterprising newspaper publisher of Washington, in pursuit of popular free advertising for his property, has caused a number of more or less prominent business men to allow their sympathy to run away with their good judgment and to join in a public call for a mass meeting to be held in Washington for the purpose of publicly expressing sympathy for the revolutionists. The meeting will be held, and the resolutions of sympathy adopted; but under existing circumstances it is an ill-advised affair, implying an entirely unnecessary and uncalled for lack of confidence in the administration to deal properly with the Cuban affair. The aforesaid enterprising publisher has been seconded in this scheme by republicans, who hope thereby to embarrass the administration. President Cleveland is probably as fully conversant with the present status of affairs in Cuba as any man in the United States and holding meetings in Washington or elsewhere, will neither delay nor expedite matters. He will do his duty regardless of his own or the sympathy of others.

Assistant Attorney General for the Post Office Department Thomas—he's a clever fellow, a good lawyer and a good democrat, notwithstanding that long title—in his annual report to Postmaster General Wilson leaves no doubt of his opinion of those business concerns which adopt lottery methods to attract customers. After giving the number of lotteries which have been shut out of the mails by the anti-lottery law, which he declares has sounded the death-knell of lotteries in this country, Mr. Thomas in his report says: "But many business men think they must, in order to succeed, resort to schemes that appeal to the gambling spirit of the people, and they accordingly sugar-coat their legitimate enterprises with lottery advertisemeuse. These fascinating and apparently innocent schemes reach the boys and girls of the land and tend to make them gamblers." The rebuke is sharp, but no thoughtful newspaper reader can deny that it is deserved, nor that it is needed by some business concerns.

Mr. Harrison's managers are losing their shrewdness, if they approve of or are responsible for a political fairy story that was circulated in Washington this week. Talk about a thing making a horse laugh, if such a thing were possible this story would do it. The preface to the story sets out that it was Tom Platt and his wicked anti-Harrison associates, and not the immaculate Benjamin, who stabbed Gov. Morton in the back at the Minneapolis convention of '92 and gave the vice-presidential nomination to White law Reid. And as if that were not a sufficient perversion of facts for a single story, it proceeds to tell that Mr. Harrison doesn't want next year's nomination to go to Reid, McKinley or Allison, but to his bosom friend and one-time running mate, Gov. Morton. Gov. Morton has not proved himself to be as good a politician as he is a business man, but nobody in Washington believes that he can be fooled by any such story as this. He knows that Mr Harrison was in telegraphic communication with the men who controlled the Minneapolis convention, and that one word from him to John C. New would have prevented the Whitelaw Reid deal being carried out. He also knows that the friendship now so publicly proffered is but the Judas like percursor of another stab in the back, if the opportunity to administer it occurs.

A great many cock and bull stories are being told concerning bargains made by the Democratic Senators with the republican Senators for a reorganization of the Senate and a division of the committee chairmanships etc. No such bargain has been made. Just before the last session of Congress closed there was an informal talk about some such arrangement, but it was not participated in by more than half a dozen Senators and they had no authority from their colleagues to make any bargain. I do not say that some such arrangement may not be made, but I do say that it cannot be made by two or three Senators.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation, can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

W. L. MANNING FOR ASSEMBLY.

W. L. Manning, of Brighton, N. Y. formerly a resident of this county, has been nominated for member of Assembly in his district. The Rochester Herald of the 9th inst. says:

William L. Manning, the nominee for Assembly, is the present President of the village of Brighton, having been the unanimous choice of both Democrats and Republicans last spring, after serving two years as Village Trustee. Eleven years ago Mr. Manning came to Brighton from Pennsylvania, where for three years he had been County Auditor of Columbia. He had also served for one year as Mercantile Appraiser, an office which corresponds to that of Excise Commissioner in this State. During his resin Brighton Mr. Manning has been engaged in the nursery and farm seeds business with J. F. Le Clare and is at present Notary Public of the town. At the age of 49 he is to-day in the prime of active manhood and politically in a position which makes his election well nigh certain. Friends and supporters of justice and fair dealing will recall the fact that it was William L. Manning who arose in the Grand Jury room and denounced the gambling interests of Rochester, a manly stand which won for him the commendation of good citizens of all political creeds.

For more than a hundred years the Shakers have been studying the remedial properties of plants. They have made many discoveries, but their greatest achievement was made last year. It is a cordial that contains already digested food and is a digester of food. It is effective in removing distress after eating, and creates an appetite for more food so that eating becomes a pleasure. Pale, thin people become plump and healthy under its use. It arrests the wasting of consumption.

There never has been such a step forward in the cure of indigestion as this Shaker Cordial. Your druggist will be glad to give you a little book descriptive of the product.

Give the babies Laxol, which is Castor Oil made as palatable as Honey.

A team which Col. Ricketts was sending to the North mountain house from Wilkes-Barre was left standing by the driver at Benscoter's hotel in Muhlenburg, Tuesday afternoon. The horses ran away and soon overtook Wallace Benscoter's Irish Lane stage. The team ran into him and crushed the rear end of his wagon. There was only one passenger and fortunately she was in the front end of the wagon. Otherwise she would no doubt have been badly hurt.—Mt. Echo.

Hunters say rabbits are unusually plentiful this year and they are therefore looking for a successful season later on when it is lawfully opened. The young cotton tails are now almost fully grown.

Knights of the Golden Eagle Officers.

The controversy in the Supreme Castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle over the amount of tax to be paid by the various grand castles to the national orgauization was compromised last week by the adoption of an amendment fixing the tax at 5 cents per head in states where the total membership is less than 2,000, instead of 10 cents, as heretofore, and leaving unchanged the maximum tax of $200 in all states with a membership of more than 2,000.

These officers were elected: A. C. Lyttle, Pennsylvania, supreme chief; W. O. Brown, Deleware, supreme vice chief; A. G. McNabb, New York, supreme sir hearld; A. H. Alexander, Ohio, supreme high priest; Timothy McCarthy, Pennsylvania, supreme keeper of the exchequer; William Culberton, Pennsylvania, supreme keeper of records; W. W. Carrada, Indiana, supreme first guardsman; Howard Winslow, Maine, supreme second guardsman; Joseph E. Whiteford, Maryland, supreme medical examiner; Henry P. Reincke, Pennsylvania, lieutenant general.

Apprehensive.

The apprehension or dread of taking cold in the fall often mars the pleasure of the summer outing. Sickness in the spring or summer is looked upon more lightly, and the patients think they will get through "somehow," the vacation change, the warm weather, etc., will surely help them, but when it comes to autumn and the long cold winter stares them in the face, then and then only, they become apprehensive.

All this anxiety of mind can be relieved by carrying in the pocket a bottle of Dr. Humphreys' Specific "77". It prevents Colds, and in doing this wards off all the terrors of Grip, Pneumonia, Diptheria, and Consumption.

"77" taken in time is a perfect protector and preventive, and is a positive cure for Colds, Grip, Influenza, Catarrh, Pains and Soreness in the Head and Chest, Coughs, Sore Throat, General Prostration and Fever.

"77" will "break up" a stubborn cold that "hangs on". It is for sale by every druggist from Canada to Cape Horn.

How is this?

The Milford, Pike county, Dispatch is responsible for the story that at Rock Hill, Sullivan county, the little ice ponds are completely dried up, and Farmer Cuddeback, whose pond was stocked with German carp, has had the misfortune to lose his entire buckwheat crop. The carp, going overland in search of water, passed through his buckwheat field and, being hungry, as well as dry, cleaned it up as slick as a horde of grasshoppers could have done. All his neighbors are up in arms and in order to save their crops are making use of every available weapon with which to exterminate the threatened pest. As fast as they are killed they are being salted down, some farmers having as many as eight barrels in brine. Farmer Cuddeback says that if he can't have buckwheat cakes this winter he will have the next thing to them, buckwheat carp.

Duty of Business Men.

The effort of any newspaper to build up a town is practically nullified unless it is backed up by the business men. If a stranger turns from the news columns of a paper to its advertising pages, and if he fails to find there the advertisment or business card, he naturally comes to the conclusion that there is either nothing to the town or the publisher is not appreciated. No town ever grew without the assistance of its newspaper. Nor can a paper grow and build up its locality without the assistance of the town. Business men should realize this and remember that in giving support to a newspaper they are not only building up their own business, but are helping to support that which is steadily working for the benefit of the whole community.—Hinsdale (N. H.) Record.

A Bad Wreck

—of the constitution may follow in the track of a disordered system, due to impure blood or inactive liver. Don't run the risk! The proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery take all the "chances." They make a straightforward offer to return your money if their remedy fails to benefit or cure in all disorders and affections due to impure blood or inactive liver. The germs of disease circulate through the blood; the liver is the filter which permits the germs to enter or not. The liver active, and the blood pure, and you escape disease.

When you're run down, debiliated, weak, and your weight below a healthy standard, you regain health, strength, and wholesome flesh, by using the "Discovery." It builds up the body faster than nauseating Cod liver oil or emulsion.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, piles, biliousness, indigestion, or dyspepsia, and headaches.

THE GUNMAKER OF ILION.

Jefferson M. Clough, the Man Who Developed the Two Greatest American Rifles—The Remington and the Winchester.

He Refused a Tempting Offer From the Chinese Government—His Health Would Not Permit His Acceptance.

From the Springfield, Mass. Union.

As the result of long and arduous attention to business for many years, Jefferson M. Clough, now of Belchertown, Mass., who has just turned sixty-five years, found himself disabled by muscular rheumatism, two years and more ago and was obliged to relinquish the position of general superintendent of the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, of New Haven, Conn., where he had been employed for eleven years at a salary of $5,000 for the first few years of his service, but which was increased to $7,500 by the voluntary action of the company. Previous to his service for the Winchester Repeating Arms Company he had filled the responsible position of superintendent at E. Remington & Son's armory, at Ilion, N. Y., for seventeen years; during which time large quantities of arms were made for foreign governments as well as our own, besides sewing machines and typewriters—Mr. Clough having perfected the first of the latter machines that was exhibited. After leaving the Remingtons and previous to making an engagement with the Winchester Arms Company, the secretary of the Chinese Legation in this country came to Belchertown and negotiated with Mr. Clough to go to China to build arms for the Chinese government; but the long delay in getting the answer from the Chinese decided him in accepting the offer to go to New Haven. It was during his service for the Arms Company he visited the leading armories of England, France and Germany in company with the vice-president of the company, in order to learn whatever new methods there might be in the manufacture of muskets. It was after this long term of active labor as a business man that, finding himself incapacitated for further service by the embargo which rheumatism had laid upon him, he resigned his position more than two years ago and returned to Belchertown, where he owned what was originally the Phelps farm, about three miles southeast of the centre of the town, in a retired spot where he has five hundred acres of land.

From this quiet home he began to seek a remedy for the muscular rheumatism which was located largely in the muscles of his shoulders, chest and back. He employed Dr. Holbrook, of Palmer, and received great benefit from his treatment for a time; but was so anxious to gain faster that he decided to seek another treatment, and being a man of means did not spare the cost, and was treated by baths at celebrated springs without receiving any benefit worth notice. He then tried various remedies advertised for rheumatism without receiving any good effect. During the summer of 1893 and the winter of 1894 Mr. Clough was confined to his house in Belchertown, being unable to rise from his bed without assistance, and suffering continually with acute pains and with no taste or desire for food, nor was he able to obtain sufficient sleep.

Early in the year 1894 Mr. Clough heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People through his brother James M. Clough, of Easthampton, Mass., who came to visit him, and was induced to make a trial of them. He began taking these pills about the first of March, 1894, and continued to do so until the first part of September following. The first effect noticed was a better appetite and he began to note more ability to help himself off the bed and to be better generally. Last August (1894) he was able to go alone to his summer residence and farm of 163 acres on Grenadier Island, among the Thousand Islands, in the river St. Lawrence, where from the highest land of his farm he commands a view for thirteen miles down the river.

Instead of being confined to his bed Mr. Clough is now and has been for some time able to be about the farm to direct the men employed there, and he is thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for him.

A Society Girl.

From the Oswego, N. Y., Palladium.

"For months I lived in an agony of fear; I thought surely I was going to die and friends greeted me as one not long for this world. Physicians were unable to help me and I believe that I would have died but for my brother writing to me from Detroit, Michigan, and recommending that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I did so reluctantly and with little faith in their efficacy. I am cured now and I know that I owe my restoration to health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and to them alone."

That is the story Miss Elizabeth Williams, of 110 West Third Street, a lady prominent in society circles, told a reporter of the Oswego, N. Y., Daily Palladium, who called upon her at her home in that city yesterday. Miss Williams is the daughter of the late Capt. Wm. Williams, who was for many years master of some of the finest passenger steamers on the great lakes and an inspector and rater of hulls for the Lloyd's marine records on the lakes. Continuing the story of her illness in her own way, Miss Williams said:

"I was always regarded as healthy and robust by my family and friends; in fact, I hardly knew what sickness was until the winter of 1893-4. I was then taken down with an attack of la grippe from the attending effects of which I did not recover for months. There seemed to be a general break-down in my health and constitution, winding up in the early summer with nervous prostration and sciatic rheumatism. I can't describe my symptoms. My appetite was gone and for weeks I was unable to eat or relish food but sparingly. I lost flesh rapidly and was as thin as a shadow. Local physicians attended me constantly. After months of treatment I dismissed both and took my brother's advice and tried Pink Pills. He had found them efficacious for kidney trouble. Before I had finished taking the first box I noticed an improvement in my physicial condition. I began to relish my food and my rheumatism troubled me less. Gradually the general tone of my health improved and my rheumatic pains left me entirely. I regained strength and took on flesh, until to-day I regard myself as thoroughly free from all ailment and in perfect health. My friends noted my improvement and I have never hesitated to tell them what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for one sufferer. It is that others may be benefited that I make this statement and relate my experiences."

The foregoing is but two of many wonderful cures that have been credited to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Diseases which heretofore have been supposed to be incurable, such as locomotor ataxia and paralysis succumb to this wonderful medicine as readily as the most trifling ailments. In many cases the reported cures have been investigated by the leading newspapers and verified in every possible manner, and in no case has the least semblance of fraud been discovered. Their fame has spread to the far ends of civilization and there is hardly a drug store in this country or abroad where they cannot be found.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

COMMANDERS OF THE ARMY.

Only Three With Rank of General in Over a Century.

Lieutenant General John M. Schofield is 62 years of age, and in accordance with the statute will retire from active service in the United States army, which he entered as a graduate of the Military Academy in 1853, and of which for the last seven years he has been the commander.

The War Department was established under the Constitution by Act of Congress of 1789, and 1790 the standing army of the United States was fixed at 1,216, comprising one regiment of infantry and one regiment of artillery. Until the Spring of 1791 the chief command of this little army was held by Lieutenant-Colonel Josiah Harmer. The Generals in command of the army since that time have been as follows:

1791-92, Major-General Arthur St. Clair.
1792-96, Major-General Anthony Wayne.
1796-98, Brigadier-General James Wilkinson.
1798-99, Lieutenant-General George Washington.
1800-12, Brigadier-General James Wilkinson.
1812-15, Major-General Henry Dearborn.
1815-28, Major-General Jacob Brown.
1828-41, Major-General Alexander Macomb.
1841-61, Major and Lieutenant-General Winfield Scott.
1861-62, Major-General George B. McClellan.
1862-64, Major-General Henry W. Halleck.
1864-66, Lieutenant-General Ulysses S. Grant.
1866-69, General Ulysses S. Grant.
1869-83, General William T. Sherman.
1883-88, Lieutenant-General and General P. H. Sheridan.
1888-95, Major and Lieutenant-General J. M. Schofield.

When Washington resumed command of the army in 1798 he had under him but 3,600 men. In the war of 1812 the regular army at its highest numbered less than 12,000. During the Mexican war the maximum was 30,892, in 1848. In 1867 the regular army reached its highest numbers, with 54,000 men. The present force is, in round numbers, 25,000.

Building and Loan Societies.

Attorney General McCormick's Opinion Regarding the Payment of Fees by Them.

Attorney General McCormick on Thursday October 17 replied to a communication submitted by Commissioner of Banking Gilkeson in reference to the payment of fees of building and loan associations under the act creating the Banking Department. The Attorney General advises Commissioner Gilkeson that when building associations make their investments upon real estate in other States than Pennsylvania, they could not be held to be doing business exclusively within this State and therefore were liable to pay fees imposed by the banking act, but where such associations had stockholders who were non-residents of the Commonwealth, procured without solicitation upon the part of the association, this fact did not subject them to the payment of fees.

POSTOFFICE SHARP.

A Scoundrel Who Clears Five Dollars When He Works His Scheme

A strange man walked into the Renovo postoffice recently at about six o'clock, and asked for ten cents worth of postage stamps. In payment thereof he tendered a $10 bill. Mrs. Hull, the postoffice clerk, gave him in payment a $5 bill and $4.90 in silver. The man then discovered that he had ten cents and asked Mrs. Hull to return the $10 bill at the same time giving her ten cents for the stamps together with the silver change she had given him. He then quickly left the office. The young lady then discovered that the stranger had failen to return the $5 bill. She notified Mr. Wright as soon as possible, but no trace of the scoundrel has been seen since. His object was apparently to confuse the clerk, which he succeeded in doing. That same evening a telegram was received by Postmaster Wright, from the postoffice at Lock Haven, warning him against a party who had worked the same scheme in that office.—Milton Record.

This chap had better steer clear of Bloomsburg, as the corps of efficient clerks in this office are on to all those kind of games.

The employees of the Union Coal Company at Shamokin have petitioned the Factory Inspector to compel the corporation to comply with the provisions of the Semi-Monthly Pay law. Demand and Supply.

We have again entered upon an era of acknowledged prosperity. All the industries are humming with mechanical activity. Business is active in every department. Wages have advanced all along the labor line. All classes seem to profit from the pulsation of a new business life. The national financial health seems to glow with vigorous and sturdy color. There seems to be an absorption of all manufactured products as fast as falling from the producing machinery, as fast as the earth absorbs the falling rains from the flying clouds. But notwithstanding all, there is a glut in the agricultural product without sufficient opening to allow that commodity to flow into the markets of the world with profit to the producer.

The value of the world's aggregate agricultural product is about the same each year, whether the volume of that product is large or small. The standard of vaiue is upon the over-full, or under full bushel. In an excessive crop the price per bushel is less; in a partial failure the price per bushel is more. It is expansion, or contraction of value per bushel with the agricultural product, owing to circumstances of quantity. The farmer, as a whole, can make neither more, nor less money by producing greater or less quantities. The supply is the barometer of his profits. The aggregate profits are about the same each year. When there is no visible supply of a stable agricultural product, the price is enhanced from one to two hundred per cent. When the supply has no visible, or possible end, the commodity is a glut, and commands hardly any price. It can hardly be exchanged for other commodities, even at a sacrifice. A prolific crop requires more labor and expense for gatherin g and marketing to realize a certain sum, or profit, than an average crop will cost for gathering and marketing to realize the same sum, or profit, providing the prolific, or average crop, is universal. There seems to be no progression in the accumulation of the farmers' wealth, although there is an endless progression in the accumulation of wealth in almost all other directions, as well as in the productive capacity of agricultural machinery. The progression in the agricultural product consumptive capacity of the world has not kept apace with the agricultural product producing capacity—hence over-production, gluts, low prices and no demand in years of bounteous harvests. The question arises, why should coal, and manufactured products advance in price in times of general prosperity and agricultural products decline in price in prosperous times. There is need of some leveling up in this direction. There is certainly "something rotten in Denmark," or these things would not so be.

JOHN C. WENNER.

A Big Corn Crop.

We lately visited Mr. Alex. Billmeyer's farm, situated about a mile from town, and inspected his corn fields. He has about 90 acres this year, and it is a wonderful thing to see what a corn crop, he produced not a few stalks or shocks, but the whole crop. There is scarcely a hill missed throughout the whole field and all the corn is large. It will yield on the average 145 bushels to the acre. If any one doubts this statement let him visit the farm and it will be proven to be a fact. Twelve men cut in one day, 1008 large shocks of this corn. He will have about 1200 bushels of corn on the ear. Its value at fifty cents per bushel shelled will be $3000, about as much as some farms of equal size would yield all crops combined, Mr. Billmeyer certainly stands at the front in his business.—Montour American.

A Cow Devoured His Coat.

Harry Deeds, of Reading, while cutting corn, hung his coat upon the fence. A cow coming along devoured the whole of it except part of one sleeve and a corn-cob pipe.

The pipe stuck fast in the animal's throat, and it was with great difficulty that it was dislodged.—Lancaster Examiner.

Moral—As you value your stock don't smoke a corn-cob.

Harry Wright, the great base ball manager, has by his last will and testament left all his books, memoranda &c. concerning base ball, cricket, and other sports, to the National League and American Association of Professional Base Ball clubs, to form a nucleus for a library on this subject.

The Democrats in the county should all turn out to the polls on November 5th and give an old-time rousing majority. There are at least two thousand of a majority in the county according to the pool books, and it should not be much of a task for every Democrat to cast his vote when the time comes. A good, big majority this Fall will strengthen the ticket in '96, when we will elect the next President.

borrowing from health.

If you have borrowed from health to satisfy the demands of business, if your blood is not getting that constant supply of fat from your food it should have, you must pay back from somewhere, and the somewhere will be from the fat stored up in the body.

The sign of this borrowing is thinness; the result, nerve-waste. You need fat to keep the blood in health unless you want to live with no reserve force—live from hand to mouth.

An every-day hen's egg nearly caused a rupture between a Chester young woman and her lover. While in the poultry yard two weeks ago, she picked up an egg and placed it in the pocket of her mackintosh, but before she returned to the house the egg was forgotten. The mackintosh was hung on a hook and was not disturbed until a night or two ago, when it was donned by the young lady, and when the arm of the lover embraced her, the long-suffering egg gave way. Soon the lover grew abstracted, and gradually withdrew his arm. He edged off from the girl, and, touched to the quick and not understanding his coldness, she also widened the space. Finally, seizing his hat, the lover muttered an excuse and left the premises, and the girl fled into the house, where she burst into tears. The broken egg made its presence felt in the house to the other members of the family, but as the young lady had a cold she had not noticed the aroma which drove off her lover. A reconciliation followed and the lover explained that he was angered to think that the girl he loved could tolerate an oder so awful as that.

Largest Pair of Oxen in the World.

James D. Avery, of Buckland, Mass., owns, it is claimed, the largest and strongest pair of oxen in the world. They are thoroughbred Holsteins, seven years old, and weigh 61,000 pounds. They stand seventeen hands high and measure in girth nine feet four inches, and from tip to tip, fourteen feet nine inches. They are so near alike that they are taken for twins. They can easily draw a load of 11,000 pounds.

THE EXPOSITION

surpasses in some respects, any Exposition yet held in America. Here you find, side by side, exhibits from Florida and Alaska, California and Maine, the United States of America and the United States of Brazil, Mexico and Canada, and so on until nearly every civilized nation on the globe is represented. On the terraces are found, among many other attractions, Arab, Chinese and Mexican villages, showing just how those peoples have their "daily walk and conversation."

Ask for tickets via "THE SEABOARD AIR LINE."

Pullman Sleeping Car reservations will be made and further information furnished upon application to any Agent of the Seaboard Air Line, or to the undersigned.

GONE TO HIS REST.

One by one, the old residents of the Town are passing away, and Saturday afternoon at half past four o'clock Jeremiah M. Hess breathed his last. He had been sick for a long time, and his family realized the fact that the time of his departure was near at hand. He was born in Wapwallopen, Luzerne County, February 22nd, 1823, and consequently aged seventy two years, seven months and twenty seven days, at the time of his death. When he was six years of age, he moved with his parents to Salem township, Luzerne County, where he lived on a farm until he was nineteen years of age, when he was apprenticed to Charles Hagenbuch, a blacksmith residing in Centre Township. After working at this trade several months he abandoned it, and returned to his former home in Salem Township where he was married January 26, 1843, to Miss Maria, daughter of Joseph Pohe. After his marriage, he moved to Orange Township, on the farm of his father-in-law, which he subsequently purchased. He resided there until 1869, when he purchased a residence in this place. He left to survive him four children as follows: George Wilson, Mary Catharine, wife of Frank Cavanee, Jeremiah A, and Sarah Agnes, wife of Clark Shuman, of Main Township. He was a member of the Reformed Church of this place. The funeral services were held in the said church Tuesday morning, at nine o'clock and were conducted by his pastor, Rev. C. H. Brandt. The body was taken to the Union Church at Orangeville, where services were held which were in charge of Rev. A. Houtz and the interment was in the Orangeville Cemetery.

SENATOR HERRING'S CASE.

The following editorial appeared in the Catawissa News Item this week, and it fits the case so well that we reprint it with our full and hearty endorsement.

The Item says: The result of the investigation at Scranton last week by the United States Government of the charges made against Senator Herring as Revenue Collector, by Burke, a discharged Deputy Collector, was, in effect, that the charges were false, and a wicked political plot to secure the removal of Senator Herring and injure his good name. This result will preserve and enlarge the good opinion which the people of Columbia county and throughout the State have of the public, professional and private life of Senator Herring. It will not be accepted in this light by the political enemies of Senator Herring. These enemies will say, it was not a fair investigation, it was a white wash. The people, however, will clearly understand that these expressions are only contemptible shifts and excuses made to deceive them and to avoid the judgment of truth, for the investigation was by the United States government, and therefore, most impartial, full and strict. It was not an investigation in the absence of the accused, without opportunity to confront the accuser and his witnesses and make defence, as the political enemies of Senator Herring would have had it, but an investigation in the presence of the accused and accuser with his witnesses before a disinterested tribunal under the forms of law. Its result will therefore be accepted by the people as the truth, and to Burke it will be a reminder that one who is prompted to attack another through petty malice and revenge will always be vanquished.

STORM SIGNALS.

The above is the theme of a series of eight sermons to be preached by Rev. P. A. Heilman in the Lutheran Church beginning with next Sunday evening. women read this. A meeting for women only will be held in the First Presbyterian Church, Monday evening, October 28th, at 7:45 o'clock. Every mother, wife, daughter and sister should be there. The meeting will be addressed by Miss Margaret M. Gee, of Pittston, Pa., who comes here at the solicitation of the Young Men's Christian Association. There will be special music. The Association is engaged in an earnest effort to keep and save from evil the sons, husbands, fathers and brothers of the women of Bloomsburg and they need and deserve the sympathy, encouragement and help of every woman.

The attention of our readers is called to the unique advertisement of the Messrs. Jonas Long's Sons of Wilkes-Barre, that appears in to-day's issue of this paper. Their house is the largest department store in Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia, and represents the highest class of merchandise. Their business has assumed mammoth proportions, which necessitates constant change of stock, enabling their patrons to make selections from clean, new goods. It also assures them of the very latest in styles and novelties. They propose giving the patrons of this paper weekly talks on the subjects most interesting to the feminine mind, and to set forth anything new in the dry goods world. As the articles are written by one experienced in the oddities of feminine fashion, they will be of more than passing interest and value to our readers, and the well known reliability of this firm should inspire the confidence of the people in these announcements.*

ATTRACTIVE FIGURES

come with good health. It is easily seen when a woman has perfect health, her face and figure show it. The painful disorders and diseases that afflict womankind make themselves seen as well as felt. Dull eyes, blotched or sallow face, and a wasted form, follow them. This is the time to turn to the right remedy. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription builds up and strengthens the system, and regulates and promotes every proper function. It's a quieting, soothing nervine. It corrects and cures, safely and surely, all those delicate derangements, weaknesses, irregularities and diseases peculiar to the sex.

For young girls just entering womanhood; woman at the critical "change of life"; and every woman who is "run-down" or overworked, it's something to remember that there's a medicine that will help you.

"FEMALE WEAKNESS."

MRS. BYRON DANARD, of Milford, Prince Edward Co., Ont., Canada, writes: "A few years ago my health failed. I was troubled with female disease in its worst form, having been afflicted about fifteen years. I was also troubled with constipation, loss of appetite, dizziness and ringing in my head, nervous prostration, hysteria, loss of memory, palpitation of the heart, together with 'that tired feeling' all the time. I consulted several physicians — no one could clearly diagnose my case and their medicines failed to give relief. After much persuasion I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—have taken five bottles and am a well woman doing my housework; from a run-down condition I have been restored to health. I feel it my duty to recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' for ladies afflicted with female diseases as I have been."

MRS. DANARD.

W. H. Yetter, has taken charge of the music rooms formerly under the management of Mr. Hunter for the Estey & Bruce Company. He is too busy this week to write an advertisement. It will appear later on.

Jacob Benner has been re-appointed tax collector of Conyngham township.

DANVILLE FAIR.

The Danville fair this year eclipsed all former ones not only in the attendance, but also in the displays. The exhibition building was well filled with displays by the various merchants of the town, and the space devoted to ladies work was crowded with specimens of their skill. The attendance on Friday was estimated at 5000, a large number of whom were from Bloomsburg. The racing was very good and in the free for all a 2:19¼ record was made. The fakirs were there in all their glory, and worked unmolested all manner of skin games. The old adage "A fool and his money are soon parted" was demonstrated on the grounds. In order to preserve order, part of our police force was employed. There were several fights and one person was arrested for working the shell game, and another on the suspicion of being a pick-pocket. The fair was to have closed on Friday, but was continued on Saturday in order to finish the races. Harry M. a horse owned by Harvey Deiterich of this place, took first money in the 2:37 class. Time made was 2:33. Dinsmore, owned by M. L. Perrin of Pittston, was the winner in the free for all. Best time made 2:19¼.

The Institute proceedings are crowded out, they will appear in our next issue.

Simon Long's Sons' Anniversary.

Simon Long's Sons, the old reliable clothing dealers of Wilkes-Barre, have a broad gauge advertisement in this issue in which they announce some tempting bargains in commemoration of the 48th anniversary of the establishment of the house. It will pay you to read it carefully. Mark-down sales at this house mean what they say. It might be worth while to stay in town till evening to see their unique sign made of electric lights, and extending clear across the front of their store. It is a beautiful piece of work. *

- - - AT THE FORKS OF THE ROAD - - -

is where one needs discretion. Either may lead to destination, though one may be rough, long and hilly, while the other is short, smooth and level. It's best to investigate before you start. The road to success in business leads through a business education. There are Business Colleges on either fork. Investigate before you enter. You can learn a great deal about this one from our Journal (free for the asking), from graduates holding good positions in all parts of the country, and from business men who have employed them.
